

Sentencing Policy and Death Penalty in China

Abstract Professor Liling Yue

University of Beijing, China

China imposes a large number of death penalties. The paper will introduce the current situation of the death penalty from both criminal law and criminal procedure law's perspectives and will explain the cultural, political and public opinion difficulties in abolition of the death penalty.