

Biography Dr Carola Glinski

Carola is a senior researcher at the Collaborative Research Centre 'Transformations of the State' at the University of Bremen, Germany. She graduated as a fully qualified German lawyer in 1997 and also holds a master diploma in development politics. Carola has worked at the University of Bremen since 2000, with maternity breaks, first at the Research Centre on European Environmental Law before she started with her current position.

She obtained her doctorate with a thesis on legal effects of corporate social responsibility initiatives concerning transnational corporations. Her research and publications focus on the tensions between trade and investment law and social and environmental standards as well as on democratic governance in the EU and at the international sphere.
